

Expired

Item was in transportation period for a long time still has no delivered results. General explanation:

1. At a certain stage during transportation, the carrier has not updated the tracking information due to the high volume of postage.
2. The carrier was omitted to enter the tracking information.
3. Your package may have been lost during the transportation period.

If you ensure your package has been delivered successfully, please ignore this notice. However, if you haven't received your package, please pay attention, we'd advise you to contact the package sender or your shipping carrier for clarification.
